Description

1. Take the Albi road, then go up to the left by the dead-end street opposite the Peugeot garage. At the top of this path, turn right.

2. When you reach a crow's foot, continue straight ahead (rightmost lane). After a few hundred meters, turn left.

3. You arrive at the D30. Turn left on the road then right by the path that runs alongside enclosures. From there, follow the path to the hamlet of Cabrilles de Grayssac.

4. At the entrance to the hamlet of Cabrilles, turn right, then left and go down the road to the church of Saint-Étienne de Grayssac.

5. Take the dirt road on the right that goes up towards the hamlet of l'Auroulié. At the top, turn left then right to go back down the other side towards the two large pine trees.

6. We find the old Castres - Albi railway line called "Voie Verte" today which we take on the right to return to Lautrec. Along the way, you will see in the distance a magnificent double dovecote at the place called Cadalen.

7. On arrival at Le Buguet, leave the Voie Verte and take the first path on the right which goes up towards Lautrec. Then take the path on the right towards Les Sols. Turn right then take the path on the left which leads to the Saint-Rémy washhouse then go back up the old Roman road to the Porte de la Caussade. You can return to the roundabout by going along the car park on the right or by passing through the centre of the village.
